Since adding the Isagenix line of Nutritional Products into my practice, my patients are experiencing new levels of health and wellness. The feedback has been phenomenal. Patients are reporting not only losing weight and improving body composition but also such things as kicking the caffeine habit, quitting smoking, and helping to regulate digestive disturbances. As a chiropractor, I firmly believe that the body is a self-healing organism, and given the nutrients it needs, can achieve and maintain health and balance. Isagenix helps to do that.

I began the Isagenix 9-Day Cleanse because I was interested in the health aspects of cleansing. At 5 feet 2 inches and 110 pounds, I didn't think I had excess weight to lose but I understand the importance of regular cleansing.

The Isagenix Cleanse, I believe, helped allowed me to break a caffeine habit that I had since college (over 11 years). I had always started my day with coffee and felt it to be not an option but a necessity. I was shocked at how quickly I overcame coffee cravings and no longer felt the need to get my energy in the morning from coffee.

After the 9-Day Cleanse, I have continued on the Isa-Lean Shakes each morning and have more consistent energy than I've ever had before, and it lasts continuously throughout the day.

Adding the Isagenix line of Nutritional Products to my practice has really helped my nutritional sales. It is amazing. It has been a welcome challenge to be able to keep enough products on hand to meet the demand of our patients - and the referrals of our patients - for these wonderful products.

It would be my pleasure to speak with any physician or Health Care Professional considering Isagenix.

Convinced.
